LANDSCAPE PHOTOGRAPHY WORKSHOP – SLOVENIA

Join Tom Mackie this October for a breathtakingly beautiful, seven-day photography workshop in northwest Slovenia's Julian Alps. With the first snows dusting the jutting peaks of Triglav National Park and the entire landscape aglow with the burnished autumn colours of the ubiquitous forests, you'll be mesmerised by the sheer number of magical outdoor photography opportunities. And with Tom's expert guidance, you'll discover how to make the most of each one – from dreamy mountain vistas to divine churches, dramatic river valleys and tumbling waterfalls.

Slovenia workshop highlights

- After meeting up at Ljubljana Airport, we'll take a short drive to the charming ski resort of Kranjska Gora, which will be our base for the first three nights of our workshop. Just a few minutes' stroll outside of the town lies the picturesque Lake Jasna. Actually two interconnected artificial lakes, it's an idyllic spot for sunset images of the surrounding peaks reflected in tranquil turquoise waters.
- Kranjska Gora is also the perfect jumping-off spot for Triglav National Park, Slovenia's first Biosphere Reserve – some 325 square miles of unspoilt forested mountains, plunging ravines, pristine lakes and rolling alpine pastures. The Mangart Pass yields spectacular sunsets, while the crisp morning temperatures often give rise to inversions, trapping mist or cloud banks low in the valleys, with the mountaintops and trees peeping appealingly through.
- We'll also be exploring the bewitching Soča Valley, whose emerald-green river has carved out a series of stunning waterfalls and gorges through the limestone terrain. Access is via the Vrščič pass – at 5,285ft, the highest in Slovenia, with magnificent views on the descent into Soča.
- The base of our workshop will be centred on the fairytale location of Lake Bled for 4 nights, with its medieval 11th century castle standing sentinel on a precipice overlooking its northern shore, and Slovenia's only island, complete with an exquisite Baroque church.
- Divinely photogenic churches are something of a theme for this area, and we'll be focusing on two in particular – St Primoz at Jamnik, and St Thomas, both perched atop small hills, flanked by trees and backdropped by endless stacks of soaring alps. St Primoz is illuminated at night, which makes shooting at dawn or dusk a joy, while St Thomas is best captured in the morning, with the autumn sun providing its own natural spotlight. We'll also be visiting Lake Bohinj, Slovenia's largest natural lake. Only half an hour's drive from Lake Bled, it's a wonderful place for peaceful landscapes and calm reflections of golden autumnal forests.
